UGL secures $100 million in rail freight orders

Sydney: UGL Limited (ASX: UGL) today announced that its rail division has secured new freight rolling stock and wagon orders with QR Limited, valued at $100 million. The manufacturing and delivery orders include:

- 4 x C44ACi locomotives for operation in the Hunter Valley;
- 160 x QHBH freight wagons for operation in the Hunter Valley; and
- 200 x VCB freight wagons for operation in the Bowen Basin.

The manufacturing and delivery of these orders with QR will be undertaken through a number of the company's Australian rail facilities including those in New South Wales and Queensland.

UGL's Managing Director and CEO, Richard Leupen, said: "These recent successes in our rail business reflect the continued strength in the resources sector and expanding opportunities currently being experienced in the Australian freight market.

"They also reflect our ability to efficiently source and deliver high quality, cost effective and reliable rail freight solutions to our customers. We are pleased that QR has chosen to expand their long association with UGL."

Mr Leupen added: "The business is currently experiencing a near record level of tendering activity across all of the company's operations supporting increasing levels of visibility and confidence as we move forward."
