UGL rail momentum continues with $225m in new sales

Sydney: UGL Limited (ASX: UGL) (“UGL”) today confirmed its rail business, UGL Rail, has been awarded a number of significant projects across a variety of leading customers, valued at approximately $225 million. UGL will deliver the following passenger and freight supply and maintenance projects:

- Supply of 10 x C44ACi locomotives and a long term locomotive and wagon maintenance agreement to Xstrata Rail and operated by Freightliner Australia in the Hunter Valley;
- Supply of 9 x GE Evolution locomotives to Rio Tinto in WA; and
- An extension on the stage three Outer Suburban Railcar (Oscar) project to Rail Corporation New South Wales (Railcorp) for an additional 25 Oscars.

UGL’s Managing Director and CEO, Richard Leupen, said: “Our rail business continues to perform well supported by our leadership position in the Australian and South East Asian passenger and freight rail sectors.

“In the freight sector, it is pleasing to note that our rolling stock delivery and asset maintenance solutions remain products of choice for Australia’s leading rail and resources related companies.

“We are also again pleased to be extending our work with RailCorp. We are currently in the process of delivering the third stage of the Oscar project – ahead of time and budget. UGL has progressed from concept to completion of the first four-car train set as part of the third stage of the Oscar project in just 19 months – a remarkable achievement. The award for 25 additional Oscars will extend the production schedule well into calendar 2013 while supporting Australia’s rail engineering capability,” he said.

“This is the third time that RailCorp has expanded the Oscar contract, illustrating the dependability and reliability of the railcars, which are now servicing both the outer suburban New South Wales rail network as well as some inner suburban network routes.

“These important project wins and extensions demonstrate UGL’s ability to deliver safe, reliable and flexible rolling stock delivery and asset management solutions to our customers,” he added.
