UGL awarded $99.45 million resources contract

Sydney: UGL Limited (ASX: UGL) today announced that it has secured a new $99.45 million contract for structural, mechanical and piping works at BHP Billiton Iron Ore's Jimblebar Mine in Western Australia.

Under the contract, UGL's scope of work includes the fabrication and installation of equipment associated with coarse ore stockpile, secondary crushing, scalping and product screening and interconnecting conveyors. Site mobilisation commenced in July 2012.

UGL Managing Director & CEO, Richard Leupen said: "UGL is delighted to have secured this contract for project delivery in the resources sector. This is an important win for UGL and we look forward to successfully contributing to the expansion of this iron ore development in Western Australia.

"UGL has a long history in the iron ore industry having been a participant in many of the major iron ore development and expansion projects in Western Australia since the early 1980s. We continue to pursue a substantial pipeline of opportunities in the Australian resources sector which offer a balanced risk profile and the potential to deliver profitable growth."
